President's Message

“If God is the center of your life, no words are necessary. Your mere presence will touch hearts.”

—St. Vincent de Paul

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

As the president of Catholic Charities of St. Louis, I am humbled to serve in leadership at this most significant time, renewing our commitment to serve our communities in the Archdiocese of St. Louis. Our mission to bring the healing, help, and hope of Jesus Christ to those in need with a compassionate, caring presence is not just a job, but a calling, rooted in our faith in Christ and driven by a deep sense of compassion.

As we reflect on the work we do and the impact we have, it is clear that our mission is the foundation upon which all our efforts are built. It is what unites us as a team and co-workers, and it is what inspires us to continue to reach out to those in need. In this service, we always welcome joyfully any opportunity to be in the presence of Christ. As St. Vincent de Paul said, “If God is the center of your life, no words are necessary. Your mere presence will touch hearts.”

I am particularly proud of the way that our common mission is integrated into all areas of our work. United under the strong and unifying banner of Catholic Charities, our ministries work together to serve the needs of the most vulnerable members of our community. This allows us to leverage our collective strengths and resources to make a greater impact than any of us could do alone.

Our shared mission provides us with a sense of purpose and direction, enabling us to work together toward a common goal. It reminds us that we are all part of something much bigger than ourselves, and that our individual efforts are part of a collective effort to make the world a better place.

As you continue to read this newsletter, I would like to draw your attention to the next page—Go to Bat for Kids. For the past 22 years, this incredibly special program has given so many of our children joy and experience like no other. I ask you to think of a trip to the ballpark with your own families, and consider sending a child this year to one of the four games we will be sponsoring. It is a small step, but one that will make a lasting impression.

I want to thank each one of you for your dedication and commitment to our mission. Your unwavering support is what makes it possible for us to continue to make a difference in the lives of those we serve.

Peace,

Jared H. Bryson, MDiv, DMin
President and CEO
Catholic Charities of St. Louis

It's Go to Bat for Kids Season!

The crack of the bat!
The smell of the hot dogs! You can almost hear Busch Stadium ready to come alive with the new season! It's time for us to root, root, root for those Cardinals!

Go to Bat for Kids is a Catholic Charities tradition, making a trip to the ballpark possible for children who might not otherwise have that opportunity.

At each of the four Go to Bat for Kids games, a child will experience standing on the pitcher's mound and throwing out a ceremonial pitch! Also, other children served by our family of ministries will walk in a pregame parade on the field.

We invite you to step up to the plate and Go to Bat for Kids by sponsoring a child for just $26. That includes admission and a hot dog and soda. Help create a memory for one or more children. Please donate today.

Saint Lawrence Society January 26 Event

On January 26, the Saint Lawrence Society met for a morning event that included a tour of the beautiful Chapel of Saint Vincent de Paul at the Cardinal Rigali Center and so much more.

During the tour, all learned about the history of the chapel, originating in 1916 as the heart of Kenrick Seminary, and explanations for many of the unique architectural details. www.archstl.org/cardinal-rigali-center/st-vincent-de-paul-chapel.

After the tour, Holy Mass was celebrated by Archbishop Mitchell T. Rozanski who also greeted everyone in attendance. The morning concluded with a presentation given by Deacon Tyler McClay, Director of Advocacy at Catholic Charities, on our role in advocacy and the work he does for our ministries. He correlated our work to Pope Benedict XVI's Deus Caritas Est (God is Love) encyclical.

For information on the Saint Lawrence Society, please contact Alisa Goessling at 314.256.5904 or agoessling@ccstl.org.

A Day at the Capitol in Jefferson City

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of St. Louis President Jared Bryson, his Chief of Staff and ministry directors joined our Director of Advocacy, Deacon Tyler McClay, for a "lobby day" at the Missouri state Capitol on January 31. The day offered an exceptional opportunity for us to witness to our identity as a unified organization, with a profound legacy of supporting the common good and playing a vital role for people in need. Throughout the day, we were able to discuss with our state's legislators issues of concern to the ministries of Catholic Charities.

Good News from Our Ministries

A MINISTRY OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES

We join our co-workers at Cardinal Ritter Senior Services in thanking Archbishop Mitchell Rozanski for making the time to bless the new memory care community at the open house for the Michael Community (named for the Archangel Michael). This older adult community for the especially vulnerable group with memory care issues, is a beautiful place to care for those in need. Also, this assisted living community is the only certified care center in Missouri using the Positive Approach to Care through the internationally renowned dementia care expert, Teepa Snow.

At our ministry, Queen of Peace Center, the Nurturing Networks Therapeutic Childcare Center provides diverse services to children who have a mother actively engaged in treatment and fall between six weeks and five years of age. This early intervention and prevention program offers social and emotional support in a therapeutic classroom setting. The teachers are there every step of the way to provide a safe and caring environment in order for the children to learn and grow. A typical day starts with making sure the children are acclimated to the learning environment and feel safe. The Early Childhood Center is set up to give positive re-enforcement from the teachers to build confidence and provide love.

At 37, Cierra found herself in challenging times pregnant with her third child, in a demanding job, and just needing help. Feelings of doubt about her ability to be successful with this pregnancy and parenting her children left her feeling alone. Cierra turned to our ministry, Good Shepherd Children & Family Services to find support, information, and resources so she could learn how to take care of both her family and herself. With the help of her counselor, Cierra gave birth to a healthy baby girl and continues to work full-time. She and her family live together working through it all. As Cierra says herself, “Good Shepherd gives you the good tools and knowledge you need for pregnancy, to care for a newborn and to take care of yourself.”

Saint Martha's is Catholic Charities ministry that offers shelter and support services for women and children impacted by domestic violence.

A few weeks ago, Saint Martha's met with a woman who had stopped by the Drop-In Center of this ministry fleeing an extremely violent situation with her child. The client needed resources, including legal services, as she was in a custody situation for her child. Saint Martha's reached out to Catholic Legal Assistance Ministry (CLAM) with St. Francis Community Services and secured a family law attorney for help with court proceedings.

Very soon after, the CLAM attorney and an advocate from Saint Martha's went with this client to court to face the situation and be with her as the client faced her abuser. With the help from all, the client was able to establish a temporary custody order that helped protect both the woman and her child. This collaboration within the ministries of Catholic Charities will continue for this woman and her child until a secure, safe, long-term custody order is in place and both are safe. There is no doubt the advocates from Saint Martha's and the attorney for CLAM changed the trajectory of this mom and child's life.

Former Army Specialist Milano has been a client in two Catholic Charities programs at St. Patrick Center. He has worked with the Supportive Services for Veteran Families program (SSVF) and Homeless Veterans Reintegration Program (HVRP) for over one year now and has worked very hard to get where he is today. Milano came into the program five days sober, staying in a shelter and with a deep desire to become a better provider for his family. Milano showed a deep commitment to the programs at St. Patrick Center, making all his appointments and abiding by all program guidelines. He was quick to admit mistakes, willing to ask for help when needed and always willing to put in the hard work needed to succeed. Through the HVRP, Milano was able to find permanent housing and obtain a stable job. He has since been promoted to general manager at his current employer, is more than one year sober and is enjoying housing stability.

Saint Louis Counseling therapists are often asked, "What is the difference between mental health and mental illness?" In simple terms: Everyone has mental health—it's as important as our physical well-being. But with one in five adults diagnosed with a mental illness, it touches the lives of likely everyone we know. Stigma around mental illness still exists, making it difficult for some to seek treatment. Yet, there's no need to be afraid.

With professional and compassionate counseling, people of all ages with mental-health conditions and mental illnesses can, and do, live full and happy lives. When we break down the stigma by helping others understand that mental health is as important as physical health, more people will get the counseling they need. Together, let's respond with hope and healing.

A MINISTRY OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Eric came to Catholic Charities ministry, Marygrove when he was 18 years old and has been living in the Transitional Living Program for the last year. He currently works part time at Schnucks and attends St. Louis Community College to pursue a degree as an electrician. He is very motivated to succeed and is always willing to put forth the effort to become independent. Eric demonstrates his dedication in many ways, such as walking to work every day and doing chores around the house each morning. He has a big heart and is always a team player. Eric's fellow residents and staff enjoy being around him because of his sense of humor and easy going personality. He states: "Marygrove has helped me to realize my talents and capabilities, as well as my limitations. I am learning to overcome my past struggles and am excited about the bright and independent future I am building for myself." We couldn't agree more with Eric, as we know he will go far!

A MINISTRY OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES

At St. Francis Community Services, Pathways to Progress is a program that empowers community members with long-term case management. With so much at stake for the members in the program and co-workers at St. Francis, Catholic Charities began looking for a new director to continue the good work of this program and place in this important role within our organization. Charlan Williams-Moore, Charlie, as she is known to all, is a talented director who is skilled in handling administrative, operational and outreach programs while wearing any hat necessary to accomplish dynamic objectives. Charlie was excited about this opportunity and knew she had found her next role and was eager to begin. Charlie has already started in her work with other co-workers and is looking forward to the work and the successes Pathways continues to have for the families in the program. (Charlie is front and center in the photo).

A MINISTRY OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Our ministry, LAMP (language, access, multicultural, people) sometimes gets called into difficult medical situations as translators. In a recent incident, Mid-America Transplant reached out to the call-in center to help with a family who was dealing with the loss of their daughter and about donating to the transplant organization. The challenge of explaining the medical jargon and the emotional content made it even more difficult than normal; however, the LAMP interpreter demonstrated a remarkable level of professionalism, precision, and empathy for the family. The interpreter's contribution was vital in helping the family's ultimate decision to donate, thus providing the gift of life to others.

ONE OF CATHOLIC CHARITIES OF ST. LOUIS' CORE VALUES*DignityWe love and serve each person as made in the image of God.*

“God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them.” —Genesis 1:27

“I have to love my neighbor as the image of God and the object of His love, and to act in such a way that people, in their turn, love their Creator, who knows them and acknowledges them as His brothers, whom He has saved, and that by mutual charity, they love one another for love of God, who has loved them so much as to hand over His own Son to death for them.” —St. Vincent de Paul
